MOTOR SUPPLY CO., Inc.

AGENTS FOR BUICK CARS

9 Canal Street, Putnam, Conn.

BUICK adherence to definite principles of motor design and chassis construction is again exemplified in the new Buick line for nineteen twenty-one.

While retaining those features that have established the thorough soundness and practicability of Buick cars during the last twenty years, improvements in body design and mechanical units have been incorporated in the cars that place them far in advance of the usual trend of development.

Yet, just as in past years, there is an absence of radical departures or untried changes in the new Buick line. The improvements, after exhaustive tests, have proved practical and correctly related to the Buick chassis

So, in the new Buick cars there is an expression of distinction and luxury, quality and refinement, consistency and power almost inconceivable. And were it not for the immense organization built up by Buick during the last decade, this wonderful Twenty One Buick would, indeed, be impossible.

Mechanically, the new Buick is more than a worthy successor to the previous models that have performed their a way into the hearts of motorists everywhere; in appearance, the new Buick is a revelation.

The line for nineteen twenty-one comprises seven new models, each powered with the famous six-cylinder Buick Valve-in-Head motor. In other words, a single standard of mechanical excellence is available for the purchasers of all Buick cars, supplemented by four closed and three open body types, which make it possible to apply the Buick standard to each individual's motoring requirements.

THE BUICK CHASSIS — CORRECTLY RELATED

ABOVE all else, a motor car is a piece of machinery. It should be bought, operated and judged as a machine: a collection of mechanical units, each correct in itself, yet co-ordinated and properly related to the other units that make up the well engineered car.

Buick balance and proportion, performance and durability, are the result of twenty years spent in developing a car for long and consistent functioning. Season after season, Buick engineers have improved the Buick chassis, yet always adhering to the dominant Valve-in-Head principle, and as each step in the succession of improvements has been completed and patented, the Buick has naturally become more distinctive.

And the result, as seen today, is a Buick Valve-in-Head motor car with a genuine transportation value that can only be equalled by another Buick.

PUTNAM

According to a story in a Boston paper, this city has missed something big, which is a way of leading up to a story that a car of potatoes shiped out of Aroostook county, Maine, and billed to this city, was found by federal officers to contain 200 cases of whiskey, evidently being run couth from the Canadian border. The general impression here is that the liquor was not intended for anyone in Putnam, but that this city had been picked out as a place for un-conference of the Methodist Episopal shurch.
